

APM 236H1F Final Exam Announcement, 30 November, 2012

1. The locations and times of Arts and Science Faculty Christmas exams are posted on the Faculty website.

2. Calculators are not allowed.

3. The exam covers all material in the course summary of the APM 236H1F course outline.

There will be 6 questions, worth 20 marks each. Total marks = 120. Some of the questions will have part-questions. The printer of this exam has been instructed to print on both sides of the paper.

4. The teaching assistant for this course, Dominic Dotterrer, is scheduled in the math aid centre (SS 1071) at the following times to answer questions about this course:

Thursday, 13 December, 1:10 pm to 4:00 pm, and

Friday, 14 December, 1:10 pm to 4:00 pm.

5. P. Kergin's last office hour this year (in SS A1071) is from 2:10 pm to 3:00 pm on Monday, 3 December.

6. If you are currently enrolled in this course, your term test marks are available at "Portal" (also known as "Blackboard").

7. The library's eres internet site has recent final exams (without solutions) for this course. The Association of Part-Time Undergraduate Students, located in SS 1089, has a larger collection of past final exams (in hard copy, without solutions).